

Retention in the Athletic Training Major

To continue in the athletic training major, students must meet program academic, conduct, and technical standards, described in this section of the athletic training student handbook. Prior to the start of athletic training room experiences and event coverage every academic year, students must provide:

1. A completed copy of the physical exam form filled out and signed by the students' personal physician, registered nurse practitioner, physician assistant, or a Student Health Center physician.
2. A signed copy of the technical standards form. Questions regarding the ability of a student to fulfill the technical standards will immediately be referred to the University Disability Services, Office of Student Educational Services.
3. A signed "Athletic Training Student Agreement" indicating awareness of the requirements for, and demands of the athletic training major and the athletic training profession.
4. Proof of current CPR / AED certification. Freshmen will initially receive this training as part of EXSC 1010, with certification good for 2 years. Juniors must complete recertification prior to starting athletic training room / event coverage that year. It is the student's responsibility to maintain current CPR / First Aid Certification throughout the remainder of their time in the athletic training major.

In addition, athletic training students must comply with a stanast listee in this
