Life Sciences Dual Use of Research Concern

Marquette University is required to complete a certification to the National Science Foundation for each proposal submitted stating that the university will be or is in compliance with all aspects of the